CARRANZA AVOIDS IMMEDIATE BREAK WITH UNCLE SAM

AMERICAN DEMAND FOR RELEASE OF 23 TROOPERS GRANTED.

Whether State of War With Mexico Has Been Prevented or Merely Postponed is Not Yet Known

Rush of Guards to Border Not Checked.

PREPARATIONS TO GO STEADILY FORWARD AS IF ATTACK IS STILL EXPECTED.

Washington, June 28—An immediate break between the United States and the de facto government of Mexico has been averted by compliance with the American demand for the release of the 23 troopers captured in the fight at Carrizal, whether a state of war has been prevented or merely postponed no one here would attempt to say tonight.

Official information as to the attitude of General Carranza was lacking until his response to Secretary Lansing's note, dispatched Sunday, making two peremptory and distinct demands, is received there will be no decision as to whether President Wilson will lay thesisis before Congress.

News of the release of the prisoners received early tonight in press dispatches brought undisguised relief to high officials. It was accepted as correct, although no announcement had come through official sources.

Moreover, it was assumed that Carranza, impressed with the urgency of the situation, had ordered the captured cavalrymen started for the border without waiting for his announcement of the action to reach Washington.

MOVE LESSENS THE TENSION

While it generally is conceded that this move lessens tension and makes the crisis less imminent no one conversant with the grave problem is losing sight of the fact that the all-important question of Carranza's attitude toward the American expedition across the border to protect the territory and citizens of the United States from bandit outrages remains unsettled. If the de facto government stands upon the order to General Trevino to attack Pershing's men when the move otherwise than toward the border, the situation actually is just what it was before, except that there now is a possibility of diplomatic negotiations that did not exist while the Americans were held prisoners.

The preparation of the United States for war will go steadily forward. There will be no interruption of the rush of national guardsmen to the border and General Funston will continue disposing of the forces under his command as though he expected an immediate attack from the Mexicans.

CARRANZA AVOIDING BREAK

The fact that Carranza has complied with one of the demands is accepted by the more optimistic officials here as an indication that he is striving to prevent a break. Even though he again should attempt to place all blame for the Carrizal fight upon the American officers and insist upon his right forcibly to oppose any except northward movements of American troops, it is thought that possibly he will state his position in such a way as to make further discussion necessary.

During any negotiations, however, the United States will insist upon freedom of movement of the troops in Mexico and any attempt to interfere with them will be met by such force as is necessary. This will apply, too, to any period of delay occasioned by attempts to arrange mediation or arbitration.

The possibility of Latin-American offers of mediation in the crisis again was widely discussed tonight. Ignacio Caledon, minister from Bolivia, will make a second call upon Secretary Lansing tomorrow to discuss the subject. He will endeavor to ascertain for the benefit of himself and his colleagues whether tenders of good offices by the South and Central American republics would be entertained at this time.

UNWILLING TO DISCUSS IT

The minister said, after his first conference with Secretary Lansing Monday, that he understood the United States to be unwilling even to discuss the subject of mediation or arbitration while the captured American troopers remained in custody.

It is known that powerful influences have been brought to bear on Carranza in the past few days to make him at least turn over the American prisoners. Prominent Mexicans in the United States, as well as American bankers and business interests with influence in Mexican affairs, have flooded the chief with messages. They all sent him the same warning—that the United States government meant business and that to hold the prisoners would mean war.

Secretary Baker waited at the War Department until late tonight for a report from General Funston on General Trevino's announcement that he had sent the cavalrymen to Juarez to be set free. He finally went home without a report.

HAS NOT STUDIED NOTES

Secretary Lansing had not studied today the trio of communications submitted to the Department within the last 24 hours by Eliseo Arredondo, the Mexican Ambassador designate.

They protest against the alleged actions of a large column of General Pershing's men toward Mexican citizens, against the arrest of other Mexicans in the United States, and against the general embargo, effective without proclamation, stopping virtually all shipments to Mexico.

The protests are being treated as routine matters in the State Department. Two of them relating to alleged improper treatment of Mexican

ALWAYS ANOTHER SIDE

In the formation of our views on national, state and municipal affairs many of us are unconsciously led into the error of believing that there is but one side to the question before us—our side.

When we become imbued with this obsession we likewise become intolerant of opposition and refuse to recognize the possibility of any views except our own.

We might site a few instances.

We favor a certain man for president in the forthcoming national election. To our mind he is the only man possessing the necessary qualifications for this exalted position. All others are mediocre and not worth consideration. And yet as a matter of fact there is not a man in the race for the presidency today but what has his good and valuable qualities as well as his weak ones, for the brains of this nation are not centered in any one man. We have our personal choice and we sincerely believe that the man of our choice is the best fitted for the office, but we should readily concede to our neighbor his inalienable right to differ from us in this belief.

We may favor a certain system in municipal government and our neighbor may entertain views radically divergent from our own. But this does not necessarily imply that we are exactly right in our conception and that our neighbor is entirely wrong, for our neighbor, though differing from us in our views, yet possesses intelligence and is quite capable of applying it in relation to any subject before the people.

In fact, there are two sides to every question. The preponderance of argument may be in favor of one side, yet the advocates of the other side but speak in the light of their training and of their sincere conception of what is for the public weal.

They are honest in their convictions, as we are honest in ours and wisdom bespeaks the utmost tolerance on the part of all factions and peoples for those who oppose them in their policies and beliefs.

It is by the careful exercise of this wisdom that a nation becomes great and strong and dominating in the world of affairs, while to pursue a reverse policy is to invite bickering, exasperation and ultimate disintegration.

In our conduct of affairs let us think as we choose, but bow cheerfully to the will of the majority and work in harmony for the common good of all of the people.

The Sibley, Iowa, Gazette, carries the following advertisement. "On account of the war, my charges for the use of pasture will be $11 per cow for the season." More Democratic prosperity.

Col. George Harvey says that education is getting too easy. Judging by some of the fellows who get to be college professors we are inclined to agree with him.

It Always Helps

says Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky., in writing of her experience with Cardui, the woman's tonic. She says further: "Before I began to use Cardui, my back and head would hurt so bad, I thought the pain would kill me. I was hardly able to do any of my housework. After taking three bottles of Cardui, I began to feel like a new woman. I soon gained 35 pounds, and now, I do all my housework, as well as run a big water mill.

I wish every suffering woman would give a trial. I still use Cardui when I feel a little bad, and it always does me good."

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

Headache, backache, side ache, nervousness, tired, worn-out feelings, etc., are sure signs of womanly trouble. Signs that you need Cardui, the woman's tonic. You cannot make a mistake in trying Cardui for your trouble. It has been helping weak, ailing women for more than fifty years.

T. R. TO OFFER DIVISION FOR MEXICAN WAR

New York, June 27 — Theodore Roosevelt is preparing to offer a division of approximately 12,000 men to the U. S. Government, accompanied by his application for a commission as Major General. In the event of war with Mexico and a call by the president for volunteers, it was learned here tonight from authoritative sources.

Elaborate plans have been made quietly to recruit the organization from picked men throughout the country and it is said that Col. Roosevelt has worked out every detail that would expedite the mobilization of the large fighting unit. Even the horses and mules necessary are said to have been pledged.

The division will consist, it is reported, of four brigades instead of three as prescribed by army regulations. In the division will be cavalry, infantry, field artillery, aeroplane detachment, engineers, signal corps and the most modern field hospital equipment. An ample number of machine guns will accompany the division.

It is understood Col. Roosevelt and his aid have consulted with his friends in the regular army holding high rank and the entire scheme has been received with approval.

If it is possible the principal commanding officers will be drawn from the regular army. Recruiting for the division has been done to a large extent in the west and middle west, principally military experience and men who have served in the various branches of the military service.

The main equipment for the division, it is said, will have to be supplied by the war department, such as rifles, ammunition, clothing, etc. It is reported supplies of machine guns and aeroplanes are being manufactured by private concerns for the division.

Col. Roosevelt's friends say he has been receiving at his home in Oyster Bay many letters containing offers from heads of military organizations to supply him with men should he contemplate raising a force for the front.

MASON COUNTY TURNPIKES

On June 21st, I took the Flemingsburg pike at the city limits and the Model road first has my attention. I beg to advise the tax payers of Mason county, when all the work contracted for on this 1 1/2 miles of pike, will have cost over $16,000, of which sum, Mason county pays one-half and the State of Kentucky, the other one-half. $6000 of this chargeable to the 1915 Turnpike Fund, in this county, and the balance of it is chargeable to the year, 1916. The macadamizing of this stretch of pike, cost something over $5000. The asphalt, tar or oil binder which was applied to this road, cost something over $2200 per mile—sufficient money to build one mile of pike under ordinary conditions. The three bridges, retaining walls and two dams across Limestone Creek will cost, when completed, about $8000. If the present management of Mason County Turnpikes, had the expenditure of $200,000 of Bond money, how far on the Flemingsburg pike, do you think $200,000 would go? The water already runs in the middle of this pike from the home of Thomas Malone to the first bridge over Limestone Creek, a distance of about 500 feet. The asphalt upon the middle stretch of this road has softened up, owing to the warm weather, and the county officials have had this covered with screenings and the pike is very uneven and rough until you reach the last one-half mile of this improvement. In my judgment, the water bound macadam would have been at least, as good as the construction which was used, and $3000 would have been saved to Mason county.

The State Engineer was here about 10 days ago and finally received the road, and said it was the best piece of road he ever saw built under similar conditions. If this is Mr. Ross's sincere judgment, Mason county had better donate $1000 to have kept Mr. Ross some other place than Maysville during the fall of 1915.

The Flemingsburg pike from the end of the Model road to Tom Comer's is full of ruts from 4 to 8 inches deep, which have been there ever since February. The water has been running down these ruts, for distances of 500 to 600 feet, and you can imagine, readily, how much harm has been done by the elements alone, but the automobile has to bear the blame of this condition. These ruts are almost through to the clay and should have been filled with sledged rock and then covered with a finer rock. However, since this inspection was made, the county has had the Robertson county roller and the new scarifier working on this hill, being there two days. They dug up sufficient fine rock, dust and clay to fill up the ruts, and this hill is apparently in splendid condition now, but, I wish to say, that it is nothing more than a summer road, as there is nothing to keep the travel from going back into these ruts as above, as the ruts were not filled with heavy rock but with clay and fine rock.

I also beg to call attention to the expenditure of the county, last fall, of about $100, in hauling refuse blue clay from the Model road quarry upon this hill to Comer's, which I have just described above. This refuse from this quarry as soon as it became frozen and thawed out again made 4 inches of mud over the whole stretch upon which it was applied. There are many bad places on this pike from the top of the hill to the Mt. Gilead pike, and I wish to call attention especially to a stretch of the pike from the old Williams tollgate house to the Mt. Gilead pike. There has been quite a lot of money expended in ditching with a grader but this ditching did not get the water out of the middle of the pike. There is not a rod of rock being hauled upon this stretch of 9 1/2 miles, which I am referring to, although there are two parties at Lewisburg, who have about 200 rod of good gray Limestone rock, which could be had for a very small price. One of the parties, Mr. Jacob Rose, told me he had been unable to sell this rock to the county although it had been out one year. He has at last sold it to a man in the community who is going to build a turnpike for one of our county officials, who lives about one mile from the point where the rock is. Mr. Browning on the other side of Lewisburg has his rock piled within 50 steps of the pike, and I am told, that he has been unable, also, to sell his rock. There is no question about needing it. Rock on this pike will cost on an average of, at least $2.00 per rod, and there should be $200 per mile applied to the repair of this road, each year, without robbing any other pike.

The Mt. Gilead pike next has my attention. This pike has about 10 rods of gray Limestone rock broken already to apply but have been resting 12 months. Water is washing this pike badly, although with very little expenditure of money, the breaks, at present upon the road would suffice to carry the water away, but the accumulation of mud has caused them to stop up and run over. At the Gilead end of this pike, which is 2 1/10 miles long, I found a colored man spreading rock on the road and doing some ditching in order to cover the fresh rock with dirt. The work he was doing was all right if it would only go far enough. This man had horse and cart with him but the horse was unhitched and turned out to graze in a school house lot, near by. I asked the man what he got per day and he said $1.25 for himself and 75c for the horse and cart. I asked, if he charged for the horse and cart when he had the horse turned out on grass like it was, and he said, oh, yes, I have to have the horse and cart to haul my tools to work, (shovel and pick). This instance is a fair sample of what is becoming of Mason county's money.

I proceeded North on the Mt. Carmel pike from Gilead and the Fleming county line to Wolfs Run pike. There was some rock being broken on this stretch of pike but the strings were so small that a man would have to have a field glass to see them 50 steps away. I measured one string just being broken that was 6 inches deep in the middle and 2 feet across. I do not know whether this is made for a rod or not. This stretch of road is badly in need of plenty of metal and sufficient drainage to keep the water from standing in the pike, as there are no hills on this stretch of 2 miles.

I followed the Wolfs Run pike from the Carmel pike, 3 2/10 miles to the Northfork bridge, where Mason, Fleming and Lewis counties meet. This bridge is in good condition but it has not seen a paint brush for several years. About 1 1/2 miles from this bridge, is a small bridge, probably 10 or 12 feet wide, with a creek running beneath it only a distance of 3 feet or less. The passable way under this bridge has become stopped up with trash and mud and the little creek has to flow around on the east side whenever a rain comes. This flow of water almost washed out one abutment entirely and in the near future, a new concrete bridge will have to take its place, as it seems Stone Masons cannot be had to repair abutments which have been standing for years. This Wolfs Run pike is very rough, indeed, being washed to pieces on account of no drainage. There is some new rock being hauled but there is also old strings that seemed to have been broken, at least, two years and which remain unspread. This pike runs through a good country whose valuation is, at least, $60 to $80 per acre, and the neighborhood, a splendid people, who pay their taxes promptly, but it certainly looks like they are getting nothing in return.

I next took the Dickson pike, which connects with the Wolfs Run pike, 1 1/2 miles from the Northfork, and passes through the Dickson neighborhood to Orangeburg, a distance of 3 1/2 miles. This pike is in fairly good condition but needs some rock and a great deal of drainage. Rock can be had very cheap, as I noticed a great many large piles of rock right opposite the pike that looked to me like could be bought for almost nothing. I expect the neighbors would almost be willing to give the rock if the county would give their pike some attention.

In 1915, Mason county did herself proud by expending the large amount of $6 on this 3 1/2 miles of pike. Do you wonder at people not wanting to vote a Bond issue in Mason county? There are three bridges on the Dickson pike, one of which is a bridge over Northfork and in good condition, the only fault I have to find with it, is that, one almost has to have a step ladder to get upon the bridge floor from the pike, but you know a "Ford" car can do almost anything and it took the place of a step ladder.

From Orangeburg, I retraced my steps on the Carmel pike and took up this pike where I had left off at the Wolfs Run. From the latter pike to the top of the Northfork hill on the south side, the road is very rough and needs plenty of rock. There is no drainage here, consequently, water stands in the middle of the pike for 100's of yards, at a stretch. The Northfork hill on both sides has had breaks upon it for a number of years and these breaks have saved the road and it is still in fair condition. These breaks are filled up and water beginning to run over, and is now beginning to do great damage to this stretch. From Orangeburg to the top of the hill there is some rock being broken, but the amount of it is not half that which is needed, in fact, the men breaking are making strings that are 55 feet long, 2 feet wide and 9 inches deep for a road, and this amount of rock will not fill half of the ruts that are already there. In many places, especially on the hills towards Maysville, the bed rock is showing up. I might mention the hill North of the Rectorville pike, at the Cochran farm, I do not believe there has been any rock applied to this hill in 5 years and the rains continue to wash out the small amount of fine rock that is left on top of the bed rock. Last year, there were several concrete bridges put in on this road on account of a big washout which occurred in the spring of 1915. These bridges are very serviceable, well constructed and reasonable in their cost, and the expenditure for them constitute the principal repair work on this 11 2/10 miles of pike. There was $1700 spent on this road last year, of which the bridges cost $1200, so you can see there was not to exceed $50 per mile expended upon it. I have gone far enough into this investigation to make the statement, that slogan in Mason county should be today, "get the water off the roads and do it quickly."

ROOSEVELT WILL DINE WITH RUGHES

New York, June 27 — Theodore Roosevelt has accepted an invitation to dine with Charles E. Hughes at the Republican nominee's hotel here at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday night, it was learned today.

and the new scarifier working on this hill, being there two days. They dug up sufficient fine rock, dust and clay to fill up the ruts, and this hill is apparently in splendid condition now, but, I wish to say, that it is nothing more than a summer road, as there is nothing to keep the travel from going back into these ruts as above, as the ruts were not filled with heavy rock but with clay and fine rock.

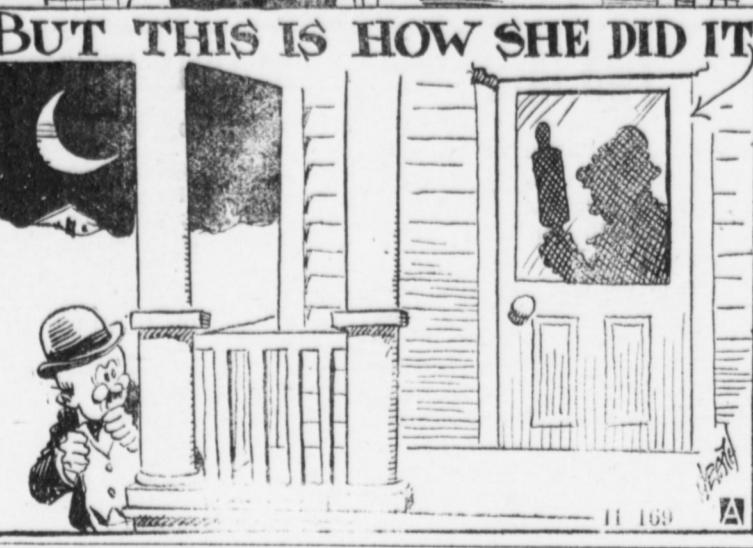

I also beg to call attention to the expenditure of the county, last fall, of about $100, in hauling refuse blue clay from the Model road quarry upon this hill to Comer's, which I have just described above. This refuse from this quarry as soon as it became frozen and thawed out again made 4 inches of mud over the whole stretch upon which it was applied. There are many bad places on this pike from the top of the hill to the Mt. Gilead pike, and I wish to call attention especially to a stretch of the pike from the old Williams tollgate house to the Mt. Gilead pike. There has been quite a lot of money expended in ditching with a grader but this ditching did not get the water out of the middle of the pike. There is not a rod of rock being hauled upon this stretch of 9 1/2 miles, which I am referring to, although there are two parties at Lewisburg, who have about 200 rod of good gray Limestone rock, which could be had for a very small price. One of the parties, Mr. Jacob Rose, told me he had been unable to sell this rock to the county although it had been out one year. He has at last sold it to a man in the community who is going to build a turnpike for one of our county officials, who lives about one mile from the point where the rock is. Mr. Browning on the other side of Lewisburg has his rock piled within 50 steps of the pike, and I am told, that he has been unable, also, to sell his rock. There is no question about needing it. Rock on this pike will cost on an average of, at least $2.00 per rod, and there should be $200 per mile applied to the repair of this road, each year, without robbing any other pike.

The Mt. Gilead pike next has my attention. This pike has about 10 rods of gray Limestone rock broken already to apply but have been resting 12 months. Water is washing this pike badly, although with very little expenditure of money, the breaks, at present upon the road would suffice to carry the water away, but the accumulation of mud has caused them to stop up and run over. At the Gilead end of this pike, which is 2 1/10 miles long, I found a colored man spreading rock on the road and doing some ditching in order to cover the fresh rock with dirt. The work he was doing was all right if it would only go far enough. This man had horse and cart with him but the horse was unhitched and turned out to graze in a school house lot, near by. I asked the man what he got per day and he said $1.25 for himself and 75c for the horse and cart. I asked, if he charged for the horse and cart when he had the horse turned out on grass like it was, and he said, oh, yes, I have to have the horse and cart to haul my tools to work, (shovel and pick). This instance is a fair sample of what is becoming of Mason county's money.

I proceeded North on the Mt. Carmel pike from Gilead and the Fleming county line to Wolfs Run pike. There was some rock being broken on this stretch of pike but the strings were so small that a man would have to have a field glass to see them 50 steps away. I measured one string just being broken that was 6 inches deep in the middle and 2 feet across. I do not know whether this is made for a rod or not. This stretch of road is badly in need of plenty of metal and sufficient drainage to keep the water from standing in the pike, as there are no hills on this stretch of 2 miles.

After fourteen weeks of military training in the open, a company of fifty-six recruits of the United States Marine Corps, learning the ropes at the recruit depot here, increased its pulling power from 202,198 pounds to 264,568 pounds—an increase of 62,370 pounds.

Tests were made with Dr. Kellogg's dynamometer, a machine which automatically registers the exact number of pounds pulled by each muscle group of the body.

ROOSEVELT AND HUGHES AGREE

Former President and the G.O.P. Nominee Dine Together—Colonel Will Speaks—Taft Willing To Talk From Same Platform If He's Asked To Do So.

New York, June 28—Charles E. Hughes, Republican presidential nominee, announced tonight at the end of an interview with Theodore Roosevelt which lasted for more than two hours and one-half that he and the former President were in "complete accord."

Mr. Hughes issued the following statement:

"I was very much pleased with Colonel Roosevelt's letter of endorsement, and he has expressed himself in a very kindly way with respect to my telegram to the Progressive committee. I wanted to talk with Colonel Roosevelt fully with respect to the issues of the campaign and asked him to dine with me tonight, and we had a very delightful interview. He talked very fully over all matters and we are in complete accord. The evening has been a very pleasant one."

It is understood that Colonel Roosevelt told Mr. Hughes he would cooperate heartily with him in any of his plans, even to the extent of making a speaking tour if Mr. Hughes so desired.

Colonel Roosevelt called upon Mr. Hughes at the nominee's invitation and they remarked together for more than two hours and a half.

A crowd had gathered in the lobby of the hotel where Mr. Hughes is staying when Colonel Roosevelt arrived. The former President lifted his hat and bowed then hurried into an elevator which took him to Mr. Hughes' apartment, the parlor of which had been fitted up as a dining room.

The Republican nominee and Colonel Roosevelt dined alone.

After the interview Mr. Hughes emerged with Colonel Roosevelt, escorting the former President to his auto and warmly shaking his hand as he bade him goodbye. When the auto moved away Colonel Roosevelt looked around, and, waving his hand to Mr. Hughes, said, "Goodbye, and the best possible luck."

Colonel Roosevelt when seen later before his departure for his home at Oyster Bay, said that he and Mr. Hughes had had a most satisfactory talk, and that he was really greatly pleased. The former President made it plain that he agreed with the attitude Mr. Hughes has taken toward the question at issue in the campaign and he assured the nominee that he would support him with the utmost heartiness.

Colonel Roosevelt said that Mr. Hughes stated he much desired the Colonel to aid in the campaign and it was agreed that in the fall Colonel Roosevelt should make three or four speeches for Mr. Hughes.

Former President William H. Taft said tonight that he was willing to work side by side with Colonel Roosevelt to aid in the election of Mr. Hughes. Asked if he would be willing to speak from the same platform with Colonel Roosevelt, he said:

"I am for Hughes. I would not let my personal feelings interfere. If such speaking arrangements were made, I would act as a private in the ranks and obey orders."

"AMUSO"

Maysville's own magician "Amuso" is a special added vaudeville attraction to be presented at the Pastime this afternoon and night. "Amuso" will appear in an entirely different act of mystery mirth and fun. The "Unknown" a splendid Essanay feature, "Ham Takes a Chance" a clever Ham and Bud comedy and "The Butler" a good Lubin comedy compose the picture program. No advance in the price of the admission.

The prayer meeting at First Presbyterian Church tonight will open at 7 o'clock, lasting forty minutes and closing in time for Chautauqua.

Mrs. L. C. Parker and daughters, Misses Lucile and Helen, left Wednesday on a visit with relatives and friends in Higginsport.

Mrs. F. P. O'Donnell and son, John Francis, have returned to their home on Forest avenue after a visit with relatives in Cincinnati.

citizens, require reports from army officers, or from federal civil authorities in California and Arizona, before any answer can be made.

Embargo Quickly Disposed Of

The protest dealing with the embargo situation probably could be disposed of quickly. In its note last Sunday the Washington authorities informed General Carranzo that it construed as deliberately hostile his orders to General Trevino to limit, by force, the operations of General Pershing's men. A formal repudiation of this attitude has been required of the de facto government.

Any reply was made to Mr. Arredondo pending the receipt of some reply to that demand, undoubtedly it would be pointed out that the United States government is not disposed to furnish supplies to a potential enemy.

The War Department was almost swamped today, by the accumulating detail work of getting 100,000 national guardsmen equipped and to the border in the shortest possible time.

Railroads Meet the Strain

Reports to the Quartermaster General showed that the railroads were meeting the unusual strain upon their facilities in a highly satisfactory manner.

Troop, supply and stock trains are rushing southward over every available line. New trains are starting every hour. A flood of railroad equipment is converging on the border distribution points. Traffic experts of all lines involved are toiling night and day with army officials to see that no serious delay occurs.

From manufacturers also satisfactory co-operation is being received by officials report. Secretary Baker made public today a statement from his supply division stating that every need of the national guard as to clothing, equipage and food was being met.

Crews Work Day and Night

At the Department and in the great military supply depots like Philadelphia, St. Louis and San Francisco, officers and their civilian crews are working night and day. Huge shipments are being hurried to the state mobilization points in addition to those rushed to the border in preparation for the mobilization along that 1,800 miles of the largest American army ever gathered in such narrow compass since the close of the Civil War.

From the arsenals trains laden with implements of war—rifles, artillery and ammunition—are moving swiftly. Orders for additional machine guns have been placed, making certain an adequate supply of these valuable weapons among the troops now moving southward.

Congress hurried forward toward adopting the Hay resolution, providing for the application of the draft to members of the national guard at the President's discretion.

Conference Committee Agrees

The conference committee of the two houses met again and decided to strip the resolution of all points of controversy, including the provision for relief of dependent families of guardsmen, returning it to the form in which it was drawn originally at the War Department. In that form it passed the House without a division. The Senate probably will adopt it tomorrow.

The resolution's greatest value, in the eyes of army officials, is its authorization to consolidate incomplete organizations of the guard. Under this power it will be possible to move without delay every man who has responded to the President's call, except those not physically qualified to go.

There will be no prolonged delay to recruit up companies or regiments before swearing them in and loading them on trains. The recruiting can be done later and the new drafts sent forward as they are available.

NOTICE

I want to thank the people of Maysville and surrounding towns for the courtesy extended me in their inquiries about my wife, who has been seriously ill in Indianapolis, Ind. It is a pleasure to think that the people of this part of the state are so generous.

The only way that I can express my feelings in the matter is through the Public Ledger. Wishing your paper a world of success and thanking you for the courtesy extended, I remain, yours respectfully,

T. J. McDONALD.

TWO HITS

Were All That Pitcher Sebaskus Allowed the Maysville Boys and They Were Defeated 3 to 1—Double Header Today.

In one of the best games that has been seen on the local diamond for some time, Portsmouth defeated Maysville Wednesday afternoon by the score of 3 to 1. Pitcher Sebaskus of Portsmouth allowed but two hits and gave six bases on balls but the locals could not get around enough. McGraynor allowed ten hits and gave five bases on balls. For the first time in past three weeks on the local diamond there was not a run scored in the first inning.

The first and last tally for the Cubs came in the fifth. Wickham grounded out. McGraynor sauntered. Timin fled to Bush. Hoffman was safe on Bush's bobble. Kaiser pounded out a single and McGraynor crossed.

The Cobblers revenge came in the seventh. Singleton singled. Demo sacrificed. Fischer rolled out. Sebaskus belted one and Singleton came in.

Another one for them in the eighth stanza. Bauer fouled out. Diltz lammed out on Williams' error. McHenry walked one to left. Spencer did likewise. Diltz scored on Singleton's grounder to Williams.

The third counter happened along in the ninth edition. Sebaskus banged one for two. Bush rolled out. Bauer drew a pass. Diltz lammed out a single and Sebaskus tallied.

A double header will be played this afternoon. The extra game has been transferred from Portsmouth to this city. French and Test will be the opposing hurlers in the first game.
